Patricia & Daniel Domergue | Clos Centeilles

The Domergues' enthusiasm and expertise translate into complex wines brimming with both sensuality and elegance. The cuvee Capitelle (pure Cinsault) bears witness to their participation in the renaissance of varietals traditional in the Languedoc. Fashions among wines may come into with a season or two, but those of the Clos Centeilles are classics. The harmonious combination of grape variety to terroir plus adapted technologies make for wines capable of ageing for more than ten years, and without going through that "austere" stage that can make a complex wine undrinkable when it is young. In other words, you can open and enjoy a bottle whenever! The one exception to this rule is Carignanissime. Exclusively harvested in small crates, the ripe Carignan grapes are vinified by true carbonic maceration (in other words without the addition of yeast or sulfite, but with a continuous bleeding of the free-run juices). Contrary to the rule for wines made by destemming and crushing, here the vatting time is no longer than a week or so, allowing for the tannins to develop fruit exceptional finesse.
